Daffodils are Class of the Week

Daffodils class has been working hard this term. We all enjoyed Modern Foreign Languages week and managed to learn the Italian version of 'Head, shoulders, knees and toes' which was a lot of fun. Tasting different types of Italian food was also very enjoyable as was making masks and pretending to be in Venice at the Carnival.

In Creative Arts week we learned about India. Everyone tried different Indian snacks - some were very spicy! We made elephants from milk cartons and decorated them with sequins. Some of us had mehndi patterns painted on our hands.

Our Literacy focus this half term has been the story of Little Red Riding Hood. We have taken turns at being the different characters in the story and acting it out - lots of chasing and screaming as the wolf tried to catch Little Red Riding Hood and Grandma!

Peter enjoyed dressing up as 'the big bad wolf' just as much as Lily did as Little Red Riding Hood!

Have a good weekend everyone
Ruth
